

Term Limits

WHEREAS, Citizens of New York City voted in 1993 and 1996 to restrict local elected officials to two terms in office;

WHEREAS, A majority of candidates for Speaker of the City Council advocate changing the term limit law through a vote of the City Council: now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, Chelsea Reform Democratic Club is opposed to any attempt to change the term limit law for City Council members other than by the vote of the people.
